

Benna B. Wilde

Program Director, Arts and Culture, Prince Charitable Trusts

Ms. Wilde is the program director for Arts and Culture for the Prince Charitable Trusts. Previously, she was the managing director at Prince. The Trusts make grants in three regions: Chicago; Washington, DC.; and Rhode Island. During her tenure as managing director, she served as chair of the Donors Forum and co-founded the Arts and Culture Group. She also served on the board of Grantmakers in the Arts and on both the Family Foundations and the Public Policy Committees of the Council on Foundations. Early in her career, she worked as an editorial assistant at the Paris Review.